STATEMENT OF BILLING ERROR RIGHTS

This statement sets out your billing error rights with respect to telephone-billed purchases made using interstate 900 pay-per-call services that are billed to you through your Local Telephone Company.

The rights and obligations of you, the customer, and your Local Telephone Company and your Long Distance Company, who are billing entities, set out here, are provided under the Federal Telephone Disclosure and Dispute Resolution Act.

This is the procedure that you must follow to notify your Local Telephone Company of a billing error and the steps that we or your Long Distance Company must take in response to your notice:

You may provide notice of a billing error to your Local Telephone Company by telephone or in writing. If you write, you should:

- 1.) Give us your name or the customer's name, and telephone number to which the charge was billed.
- 2.) Tell us the date amount of the error, and the type of error you believe occurred.
- 3.) Tell us why you believe it was an error.

You should contact your Local Telephone Company first, since we have an agreement to receive billing error notifications from customers. You may provide a notice to your Long Distance Company instead, and they may ask you to contact us directly, and provide to you our name, mailing address, and business telephone number, even if they send your billing error notice to us.

A customer who orally communicates an allegation of a billing error is presumed to have provided sufficient notice to initiate a billing review.

You have the right to withhold payment of any disputed amount pending completion of our billing review, and any action to collect any disputed amount will be suspended pending completion of the billing review.

If it's determined that no billing error occurred, your rights and obligations are as follows:

We will transmit to you an explanation setting forth the reasons why it has been determined that there was no error. If there was an error – even a partial error or an error different than what you asserted, your account will be adjusted appropriately. If you request, we will provide a written explanation and copies of any documentary evidence of the customer indebtedness.

Your 900 service Provider (i.e., AT&T, Sprint, MCI, etc.) or your Long Distance Company will notify the provider of the service of the disposition of the billing error investigation and the reasons for that disposition.

Your Local Telephone Company will notify you in writing, normally with your billing statement, of the time when payment is due of that portion of the disputed amount that is determined not to be in error.

Payment must be made in the normal course of billing or as otherwise provided, but not less than ten days after the request for payment is made.

Once your Local Telephone Company and your Long Distance Company, or you have complied with the FTC rule #308.7 (d) regarding a claim you make of a billing error, there is no further responsibility under that section if you continue to make substantially the same allegation.

You cannot be charged for a billing review.

The provider of the 900 service, your Long Distance Company, or your Local Telephone Company may take action to collect the sum outstanding that is determined not to be the result of a billing error if you continue to withhold payment of the disputed amount once the billing review is completed.

Failure to pay the amount determined not to have been the result of a billing error may be reported to a credit reporting agency or subject you to collection action.

If either we, as your billing entity, or your Long Distance Company, a billing entity, fail to follow the billing and collection procedures prescribed by #308.7 of the Federal Trade Commission rule implementing the Federal Telephone Disclosure and Dispute Resolution Act, we are obligated to forfeit any disputed amount, up to $50.00 per transaction.

USE OF TELEPHONE FOR DEBT COLLECTION PURPOSES

The Federal Communications Commission has received information that interstate telephone service is being used for collection of claimed debts in ways that are or may be violation of applicable tariffs of the telephone companies and criminal statutes. Practices alleged include calling at odd hours of the day or night; repeated calls; calls to friends, neighbors, relatives, employers and children; calls making a variety of threats; calls asserting falsely that credit rating will be hurt; calls falsely stating that legal process is about to be served; calls demanding payments for amounts not owed; calls to places of employment; and calls misrepresenting the terms and conditions of existing or proposed contracts. Although many of these calls are placed on a local basis, there is increasing indication that such improper practices also involve use of interstate toll and Wide Area Telephone Service (WATS).

Tariffs of the telephone companies forbid use of the telephone "... for a call or calls, anonymous or otherwise, if in a manner reasonably to be expected to frighten, abuse, torment, or harass another;" or for calls that "...interfere unreasonably with the use of the service by one or more other customers;" or calls for "...unlawful purpose." Upon violation of any of these conditions the telephone company can, by written notice, discontinue service "forthwith." These tariff regulations are filed with the Commission pursuant to Section 203 of the Communications Act, 47 U.S.C., 203, and are binding on the telephone company and customer alike. Users of the telephone service are also subject to the enforcement proceedings provided for in Section 401 and 411 of the Communications Act. In addition to the loss of telephone service for violation of the tariffs, Section 223 of the Communications Act makes it a crime to use telephone in the District of Columbia or in interstate or foreign communications to make "repeated telephone calls, during which conversation ensues, solely to harass any person at the called number" or knowingly permit "others to use his telephone" for such purpose. Penalties for violation of Section 223 are a fine up to $500.00 or six months' imprisonment, or both, 47 U.S.C. 223.

The Commission is concerned that some users of telephone service may be unaware of their obligations to refrain from using the service for abusive or harassing calls. It is also concerned that other users may be willfully and repeatedly violating the provision of the tariffs and the applicable statutes, and that the telephone companies are not adequately enforcing their tariffs. Accordingly, the Commission is issuing this Public Notice in order that the public may be informed of the requirements of law in this area and so that users may be alerted to their legal obligations in the use of the telephone and the penalties for failure to abide thereby.

The Kansas Captioned Telephone (CapTel) service is also available and ideal for people who have hearing loss but are able to speak for themselves.
